

From: Gina L. Turcotte <ginalyn@adelphia.net>
To: 'shelleycrew'
Date: 6/15/2005 5:02:32 PM
Subject: RE: CWG networking

Hey Jamie,

Hey there!! I also loved "What God Wants" Chapter 13!! I laughed out loud when I "read" it... :D CWG Networking is simply a means by which they put us in touch with other CWG angels in our area... Nothing more, I don't believe... but their helping us connect is more than enough for me...

I'm a tad busy right now getting ready to go to NYC tomorrow to be with other CWG Angels I've met over the past 2 years so I can't really chat right now... but, I want to keep in touch with you when I return (Mon 6/20)

You can find me online at AOL Instant Messenger at (screen name) "GinaTurcotte" or Yahoo Messenger (EclecticGoddess35)... My home phone # is 207-622-2920. I live in Augusta and my address is 305 Capitol Street, #3, Augusta, Maine 04330... I work 2nd shift at a residential, mental health facility for adolescents... My work hours are as follows: Sunday 8 a.m. -10 p.m., Mon 2p-10p, Tue 2p-midnight, Wed 12p-8p.. and I have every Thu, Fri, Sat off... but I'll be in NYC this Thursday 6/16 – Monday 6/20... I expect to return Monday night but back to work for Tuesday...

I have unlimited US/Canada long distance calling on my home phone so I'm able to call you whenever... so why don't we swap phone #'s...

Til then,

Namaste,

Gina Turcotte

From: shelleycrew [mailto:shelleycrew@usadatanet.net]
Sent: Wednesday, June 15, 2005 4:20 PM
To: ginalyn@adelphia.net
Subject: CWG networking

Hi Gina,

My name is Jamie Shelley. I got your e-mail from the networking connection e-mails I have been receiving. I am excited to see someone else in Maine that has read the CWG material. Do you know how this networking is supposed to work? I don't really know, but I'm starting by writing to you. I have read several CWG books and have started reading "What God Wants". Chapter 13 is my favorite. I was speechless. I don't know if you've read it yet. I'm interested in talking with you about the material. I hope to hear back from you. You have my e-mail.

With love,
Jamie