Your July Horoscope by Susan Miller

Dear readers: On June 19, on a visit to Los Angeles, Susan Miller fell down an entire flight of stairs and fractured her shoulder and foot. Her doctor has braced her shoulder, effectively taking away the use of one hand, so she can only type with her right hand. She's doing the best she can, so if this forecast seems a little shorter than usual, please understand why. The injuries have made her a little more tired than usual, too.

Susan tried dictating her column to her assistant but doing so didn't work for her, nor did she like using voice - activated software, because using it is like dictation. She loves the feeling of typing her report directly to you! Until her shoulder heals, which should be soon, she will continue to write with one hand. Here is your forecast:

Sagittarius Horoscope for July 2006

July will bring a change of pace. If you can take a holiday, do. In June you had a strong emphasis on romance and the exchange of future plans and promises, and you may feel you are entering July with a special glow. If so, a vacation now (if you didn't travel last month) would hit the spot. If you can't take time off, but need to take a business trip, schedule it for this month. As the adage goes, "A change is as good as a rest."

Can't do a business trip either? Other ways you can introduce refreshing new influences into your life are by going back to school or by taking seminars. Your chart shows that your mind is hungry for stimulation, and almost anything would do. Visit a trade show, make a list of museum exhibits you want to see, or read up on an unfamiliar subject that has drawn your interest lately. Your mind will be open for new experiences, so if you can, schedule a little time for yourself.

The new moon that will arrive on July 25 will allow you to make plans to study, or teach, or to get involved with a publishing or broadcasting project. Grab it. I will admit that any communication or study project you get involved with this month will be somewhat difficult to master, and you'll have to study hard. Still, because planets in Leo blend well with your Sun, you'll be up to the task and you'll also retain a great deal of information.

If you were born on or within five days of November 24, you will feel doubly the effects of the new moon of July 25. You'll feel as if someone opened a window and let in lots of fresh air and sunshine!

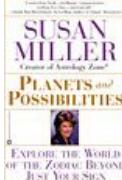

Mercury will be retrograde all month, from July 4 to 29. Mercury rules communication, perception, writing and editing, research, negotiation and agreements, transportation, and shipping - all the parts of life we need to proceed in a robust manner so that we can make progress - but those will be the areas that will be "off" all month.

Sign no contracts in July - you are already in the shadow of this Mercury retrograde period, so there's no use rushing like mad to sign on the dotted line now. In truth, the start and end days of a Mercury retrograde period always brings out the wildest side of Mercury. Just as you should not sign in the first few days of July, you should avoid signing at the end of July, too. If you are offered a job, it would be best to put off a decision until August - make any excuse for the delay. If you feel you'll "lose" the opportunity, then take it, but know you probably won't stay long, or if you do, you will find it hard to fulfill the very reason you joined the firm in the first place.

There is one exception to acting during Mercury retrograde, and that is if the situation relates back to an earlier situation that you almost entered into (or planned to), but for some reason did not. Under those circumstances, you are trying to find closure to that relationship, project, or deal, and that's good to do during these phases.

Mercury will retrograde in your eighth house of other people's money, suggesting it might be hard to collect money others owe you now. So if you expect payment for your services, a check for child support, or repayment on a loan you made to a friend, you will have to wait about a month. You may need to send a few written reminders, but I am not sure those will work! If you are applying for a loan or mortgage, you will have to be very sure you don't make errors on your application, for if you do, it will only hold things up. In truth, getting word back will probably take forever anyway, so it likely won't be your fault.

Even though Mercury rules travel, I find traveling fun during a retrograde. Mark your luggage clearly, allow plenty of time for delays in getting to the airport, don't forget your ticket, and bring something to read or listen to while you wait. I find people back home tend to need me more, but if the trip is for pleasure, it's great fun to take time off to get a sharper perspective on life.

Be smart about backing up your computer data immediately. It's not "if" you will ever lose data - it's when. Everyone does, even if it's for nutty reasons (you throw out your mail folder by accident, for example). Mercury rules moving parts and all electronics, so it's never wise to buy those types of items (including cars, cell phones, or computers) during these phases. You'll be too liable to get a lemon. I don't believe in spending on ANY expensive item during a Mercury retrograde. Wait until August, and you will save yourself a great deal of trouble.

As you get closer to month's end, however, your luck will change, quite a bit for the better!

I feel you will get really terrific financial news, just as Mercury is starting to move forward, on or near July 26, so circle this day and put a big gold star on it.

I have been holding back on some really WONDERFUL news, so here it is - it's the headliner of the month for you, dear Sagittarius!

Your ruling planet, Jupiter, governing abundance and good fortune, has been retrograde since early March. As a result, this has kept many of your plans on hold and left you feeling stuck. On July 6 all that will change when Jupiter bolts forward, and suddenly it will be as if the floodgates open and the tide suddenly begins to turn in your favor.

Watch the days surrounding July 6 for extra good news about something you've hoped would happen but may have given up on. Just when you think you'll never break through, you do! Now, Mercury is still retrograde, so don't jump into anything with both feet. You still have to talk and think, and reassess all your assumptions, especially with Neptune and Saturn in close opposition. You could get carried away with optimism, but I don't want to dampen it one bit - I just need you to slow down! Remember - August is your month to act on things!

If you plan to move or if you need furniture or to make other changes to your space, you may find the perfect solution quite unexpectedly over the weekend of July 29 - 30, when Venus and Uranus will be so very peppy and encouraging of your efforts. It should be a weekend filled with good news, especially concerning home-related goals, or for family-centered activities. Be out and about and you'll expand your luck further!

Romantically, love and travel appear to be closely linked. You seem to have someone near you'd love to be with, and apparently the feelings are mutual. Venus will glide through your relationship sector from July 1 - 18, making that first half of July your best time for romantic travel.

One of the best weekends for a romantic trip away will be July 15 - 16, when Venus and sexy Mars send one another kisses across the sky, bridging two areas of your chart - romantic relationships and travel. With the moon in fellow fire sign Aries, I give this weekend three glorious stars, so try to plan something!

As said earlier, last month was a key month for drawing closer, and this month brings the same kind of glow during the first three weeks. If you are single and looking, my favorite day for you would be July 26, especially if you have a blind date - it's a winner.

Your best date nights, whether or not you take a little trip with your sweetheart / spouse, will be: July 2, 3, 8, 9, 15, 16, 26, and 30.

Your finances should bring superb news at the full moon, July 10, plus or minus four days. As you read this statement, it may come as a complete surprise to you. Believe it, dear Sagittarius! Your chart suggests that your growing status in your firm or industry will warrant a review of your compensation this month, both in terms of salary and those perky little "extras" employers often give to keep employees happy. You may now get upgraded health insurance, a promise of a holiday bonus, or the promise of a few additional vacation days. Nice! You will see massive changes in your career in September, due to the eclipses, but this month may bring you signs that something is brewing. It may also be that you've awaited word back on a negotiation or deal you did recently, and if so, you'll hear near July 10.

This full moon (of July 10) will be remarkably positive for you, because the moon will receive loving beams from lucky Jupiter and Uranus, planet of surprise. As you see, you won't expect your good fortune, which means it will be quite exciting when it does arrive!

Another one of your happiest days will be July 26, when Venus and your ruler, Jupiter, will interact. The moon will be in Leo, too, making this a standout day for almost any purpose, from a first date, interview, or trip, to a day to shop for something ultra-special.

Summary:

You've been hemmed in most of the year, and by July you'll be ready to break out. Mars, the Sun, and new moon will brighten your house of big sky and wide horizons. Your sense of curiosity and wonder will be very strong, and even if you haven't planned on taking a trip, you probably will find a way anyway, especially at month's end (just after the new moon in your long journey's sector on July 25).

With Saturn in this same area of your chart, you may feel you need a practical reason to justify your trip - so you may combine a visit to view a prospective college or have important business to conduct while away. Or, you may travel to see a relative and stay on a few more days to have some carefree fun with friends at their home afterwards. No matter what the reason, it would be a good idea for you to get away for at least a few days.

Finances seem to be posing no problem, which is a remarkable statement, considering what a sore subject finances used to be in recent years.

Apparently you've found a way to earn cash when you need to pay for something you want to buy or do. Aside from being able to charge a fair fee for your services this summer, you will also have a few experiences that can only be described as fun, dumb luck. You may win a prize at an amusement park, on the radio, or in a local shopkeeper's giveaway. Enter small contests because someone has to win - why not you?

Romantically, it is very clear in your chart that your chances for finding new love increase when you explore new areas on your trips or when taking academic classes. (This planetary aspect would also include spending time at the library or bookshop.) If you have a steady date in your life, you will have the cosmic edge, for Venus will send blessings to your serious relationship sector. Last month you got into closer touch with your inner feelings and needs, so this month you'll feel more secure in your relationships.

On August 17 (new date), we are planning a party for Boston. Watch for more information about these events next month!

You know I am on crutches and have an arm brace, but since my fall happened in Los Angeles, the airlines were very helpful in getting me on a plane back to New York City. As you see, I can fly! I wouldn't miss the Chicago and Miami parties for all the world! While I won't be able to dance with a broken foot and fractured left shoulder, I WILL be able to meet you, hear your stories, and let you know what I see coming up, and that's what matters!

Many thanks to the people at Absolut and the team from their agency in making sure I will be comfortable every moment of my upcoming trip. I'm excited! Please come!

THANK YOU, DEAR READERS, FOR HELPING JOE!

A great many of you responded to my plea to help Joe in a fundraiser that his friends were giving. Joe had high medical bills and I asked you to send a small donation. You touched my heart enormously. Here is the note Joe sent me:

Dear Astrology Zone readers,

I want to send out a huge "thank you" to everyone who sent a gift to me. The response to the fundraising efforts was absolutely overwhelming. I feel very fortunate that there are such caring and generous people in the world, willing to help out someone they don't even know.

My recovery is going well, and I'm just about back to normal with my energy level and ability to eat. There will most likely be more procedures and hospitalizations in the near future, but hopefully nothing will be as serious as this previous episode. The donations that were collected will make a huge dent in my medical bills.

Thank you all for your wonderful support, thoughts, prayers, and kind words.

-Joe

It is a great pleasure to announce a brand new product, Astrology Zone Audio™ that will allow you to hear your monthly and daily Astrology Zone forecasts read to you! Most of us are busy multi-taskers, so now if you don't have time to read your monthly or daily forecasts, you can download them onto your iPod or other MP3 player, or download them to burn on a CD. Now you will have the convenience of having your forecasts read to you as you drive, workout at the gym, stand in line at the post office, or go to work on the commuter train. Even if you've already read your forecast, you might want to hear it, too - now you can! I have spent weeks working with the team at iAmplify, my excellent business partner for this product, on a special website that will explain all the details to you. In fact, on this special site, you can click on certain buttons and hear me speaking to you! Look for the special button icon with a photo of an iPod throughout the Astrology Zone® site and it will take you to this special area.

In fact, you can even hear me talk about your luckiest day of the year, November 21, as a sample, for free. Don't miss this free sample! One special bonus: Each month we will have a TeleTalk that all subscribers to my new Astrology Zone Audio will be invited to attend. The TeleTalk will link all subscriber guests into one phone call. I will choose a different topic for each monthly call and we will continually change the time of the TeleTalk so that we can accommodate subscribers in all time zones. If the time we have scheduled for the talk is not convenient to you, you will also have the option of hearing the archived version, which will be available two days after the event to hear any time you wish. LAURA DAY

Debuts her newest book:

"Welcome To Your Crisis:
How to Use the Power of Crisis to Create the Life You Want"

Many of you have come to know and love Laura Day and her critically acclaimed work, "The Circle." That book impressed me so much that I reviewed that book here in this column. At the time I didn't know Laura, but was so impressed with this book, I felt everyone should read it, for I knew my readers would be changed by it, as I had. After posting the review, we met and we were subsequently to become close friends.

I was therefore very eager to get my hands on her newest book, "Welcome to Your Crisis." Laura has a powerful intellect and a nurturing, giving style. It is a fascinating work. Laura feels that crisis can be one of the most powerful agents for growth and transformation, and indeed astrology tells us this is true.

You will recognize yourself as she outlines four distinct crisis types, and invites you to choose which one fits you best. Does crisis make you mainly depressed? Or do you become anxious? Filled with rage? Or, are you like celebrity Uma Thurman, a fan of Laura Day's work, who revealed at the press lunch for the book that her crisis style was more one of denial.

In her work, Laura shows you how to decide which type you are, and how best to cope within that style. Laura is always earthy and well grounded in her advice - that is what I love most about her.

This is not just another book by another expert who writes about crisis but who has never experienced it. Laura overcame a devastating personal crisis when her mother committed suicide on Laura's 14th birthday. Laura adored her mother and was very close to her, which made her Mom's passing ever more painful. Laura learned to overcome so much adversity and have a warm and loving family for herself now that she's grown up. It's no wonder she is so popular. Run, do not walk, to get this book, and try to get it before it sells out.

Astrology Zone Mobile™ Makes Its Debut!

It gives me great pleasure to announce the launch of Astrology Zone Mobile™ - my daily forecasts on cell phones in the United States. You will see the icon of a cell phone on the top right hand side of the pages on

Astrology Zone®, with the words: "Susan on the Go."

When you click on that icon you will be brought to a special page with special links to various carriers. That area will allow you to find out if you can get your forecasts as SMS text messages each day to your particular cell phone.

Verizon, Cingular, Sprint, and AT&T are ready for subscribers. T-Mobile and Nextel will be ready shortly.

For now, only readers in the United States can sign on. Canadian readers, please stay tuned. We will post information on this part of your forecast as things change.

Each cell phone carrier will set their own price for Astrology Zone Mobile.™ Please check with your phone provider for the precise monthly subscription fee that will be billed automatically to your cell phone statement.

There are literally hundreds of cell phones on the market, so understandably, not every cell phone is equipped to receive the Astrology Zone Mobile™ digital SMS text messaging service. However, if you own a new digital cell phone and are with one of the providers listed above, there is a good chance that you will be able to sign up.

Here is an important point: Each cell phone provider requires that you sign up ON your cell phone. When you do, you will be asked to state your zodiac sign, so there is no danger that you will be sent the wrong forecast.

I have found that the best way to navigate the sign-up process is to go to your local store where you purchased your phone service and to ask the sales people to help you. Try to go when the store is not too crowded.

Of course, if you have a family member under 21, you're in luck, because kids are born with the ability to find these digital features in a flash! I am joking, of course - it's not that hard - but if you don't want to deal with website instructions and aren't near your retail store, asking someone in high school or college student to help you may be your best option!

Once you sign up, you will be able to use each day to its BEST advantage. You won't forget to make use of the good aspects coming your way, and you'll always know how to best deal with the most challenging ones.

Let me know how you like Astrology Zone Mobile™ dear reader! We are listening!

Daily Astrology Zone® by Susan Miller

Subscribe to a Daily Astrological Forecast for all 12 Signs, Automatically Sent to Your Email Box

If receiving your daily astrological forecasts on a cell phone is not possible or not your preference, or if you are based outside the USA, Daily Astrology Zone® may be your solution. With this product, all 12 signs will be sent to your email box (not just one sign) each day for $4.99 a month, with a discount if you order the whole year at once.

Look for the flashing logo on my website on the left hand side that says Daily Astrology Zone® each forecasts consists of 75 words per sign.

By having all 12 signs each day, you can share them with your mother, sweetheart, spouse, best friend, or even your boss. Enjoy them! I write each forecast, so if you want to have me with you each day, this would be the best way!
