RE: Litigation Paralegal position

To Whom It May Concern,

Your online job post for a Litigation Paralegal instantly caught my attention because it very closely describes the position I am seeking and requires qualifications I have. Upon review of your website, I was very pleased to see your team members also embrace similar ideals as I do – integrity, empathy and compassion.

Since January 1, 2019, I have worked as a litigation paralegal for Jed Davis, Esq. and staff of 4 associate attorneys at Jim Mitchell and Jed Davis, P.A. in Augusta. I am fully self-employed as an IRS-1099 contractor and have Jed's support to seek extra work to supplement my current work. As Jed is nearing the end of his legal career in coming years, I am also seeking employment opportunities for that future transitional period. Please see the attached letter of reference from Jed Davis.

I currently work 100% remotely from my Sidney home, my normal billable hours are in the range of 70-90hrs/week, and sometimes over 100hrs if the caseload demands. I am seeking an additional litigation paralegal position that allows me to work 100% remote, except for attending client meetings, hearings, etc. I have found that I conduct research and write best at night when the rest of the world is sleeping.

I have a complete home office setup with high speed internet, video conference equipment, printers, scanners, and other office equipment. Because I love law and helping people, and I have few extracurricular activities, I work as many hours as work demands and will continue to do so.

My ideal job will allow me to partner with a good-hearted attorney to manage his/her heavy caseload, learn new things every day and expand my legal skills. My career goal is to establish myself as a litigation paralegal for a reputable law firm whose concern for clients' health and well-being is always paramount. I consistently and frequently earn praise from Jed and his clients for my work, and will do equal quality work for attorneys at Garmey and its clients if I have the opportunity.

Attached you will find my resume with a more detailed summary of my skills and qualifications. After your review, I would appreciate an opportunity to discuss how I can contribute to and become part of your team.

To arrange a meeting, please email me at the address above. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

GinA Turcotte

To Whom It May Concern:

GinA Turcotte started working as my litigation paralegal on January 1, 2019 when I hired her to handle complex litigation, and another paralegal to handle real estate cases. At that time, the office had about 65 active cases among 3 paralegals and 3 attorneys. A little less than a year later, the real estate paralegal resigned, and I have since relied wholly on GinA and my administrative paralegal to complete all paralegal work.

GinA's excellent legal work, attention to detail and open communication with office staff, clients and other individuals has been of great value to my firm.

GinA enthusiastically accepts assignments given to her, asks reasonable and relevant questions about her assignments, seeks proper guidance when necessary, meets deadlines or asks for proper extensions of time, and works hard to improve her substantive legal skills.

Please feel free to contact me should you wish to discuss GinA's qualifications and experience further. I'd be happy to expand on my recommendation.

Very truly yours,

Jed Davis, Esq.
